

BIO for Chuck Little

Mr. Little is the Human Resource Director for the Atlanta Electrical Contractors Association (AECA).

AECA is a not-for-profit trade association which represents over 100 commercial and industrial electrical contractors, employing about 7,000 people. These contractors have done numerous “trophy” buildings in and around the Atlanta area, including the Mall of Georgia, Gwinnett Arena, State Farm Arena, Sun Trust Park, Mercedes Benz Stadium and most of the skyscrapers in downtown Atlanta.

Little has served on a number of Board, most recently with the Governor’s Workforce Development Board and the Atlanta Regional Commission’s (ARC) Workforce Board.

He has been with AECA since January of 2000 and has over 35 years of experience working with not-for profit associations. He has lived with his family in Gwinnett County since 1983.
